Editorial Review

Review
South Heaven: Quotes from respected reviewers**

"Refreshing summer read. A story about young love and the journey of making life changing choices along with a bit of suspense; Enjoyable from start to finish."

 Colleen Munson, Western Michigan University Head Volleyball Coach, 2014 MAC Coach of the Year.**

"This book feels like summer! You can almost smell the tanning lotion and taste the ice cream. Great beach read. Flirtatious fun among teens turns into regret, causing us to explore the 'common denominator' threaded throughout the story...choices. In the end, it's the choices we make that affect us all."

 Susan K. Flach, Author of A Song and a Seashell (Young Adult Romance Series). *****

"South Heaven is more than a great story; it challenges the reader to reflect and consider how to live for what matters most."

 Tim Hiller, Author of Strive, Western Michigan University Football Player (QB), Wuerffel Trophy recipient (Humanitarian Heisman). ***

"This is a well-written book that I had a hard time putting down. It took me back to my younger days of playing volleyball on the sands of South Haven. Jerry does an excellent job of keeping your interest with the trials and tribulations that teens and young adults face today. Reconfirming that when facing challenges and obstacles in your life; keeping true to your faith, values and beliefs will keep you on the right path."

 Vicky Groat, St. Philip Varsity Volleyball Coach, Ten Michigan High School State Championships. *****

"South Heaven is an enjoyable read that is action packed with real life characters and struggles. Relatable to both teens and adults, this book offers opportunities for personal reflection and depicts the impact our choices have in life. Full of suspense, witty humor, athletics, romance and a Christian worldview, this is a read one can't put down."

 Taria Moser, Calhoun Christian School (CCS) Varsity Volleyball Coach, Spring Arbor Volleyball Player. *****

"Jerry Lambert creates a vivid picture of the obstacles and choices that not only athletes face but all young people in today's society trying to stay true to their faith and themselves. It was packed with anticipation, romance and thrill! Great read, I couldn't put it down!"

 Lena Oliver, Western Michigan Volleyball Player, MAC Defensive Player of the Year, 2x Cobra Magazine National Defensive Player of the Year, 4 High School State Championships. *****

"Jerry Lambert's choice of South Haven for the setting of his newest book, South Heaven, is fitting. Readers of South Heaven will quickly identify with the attractions that lure visitors to this lakeshore community - sandy beaches, Lake Michigan, quaint downtown and colorful, sunsets. But as the book's college-age characters - Mickey, Josie, Jack and Jerrid - find out, pursuing the many summer pleasures offered in a beachtown can bring about grave consequences."

 Becky Burkert-Kark, Editor, South Haven Tribune *****

"Jerry Lambert has crafted an enjoyable tale with interesting characters in a vivid, beautiful setting that can be read in a couple of sittings. Young girls and guys alike will get into and be able to really relate to at least one of the major characters. It's a story of choices and consequences and will make the readers think about choices they are facing, or will be facing, in their lives. Great book to stir conversation with sports teams, youth groups or your own kids."
