How to Build Your Own Engine Coffee Table By Gergely Bajzath

Gergely Bajzath has made a good number of engine coffee tables, and constantly enjoys positive feedback and comments about his work. Now, in 'How to Build your own Engine Coffee Table', he has decided to share his methods and tips with you, so that you can make one of your very own!

Whether in your living room, workshop, den, man cave, or girl shed, an engine coffee table is a great talking point, and is almost guaranteed to become the main topic of conversation when friends visit.

This book shows you everything you need to know to create your very own furniture centrepiece. From the best choice of engine base, to instructions on design and fabrication for appearance and safety. Hand painted finishes are covered, and a dedicated section shows how to safely plan, prepare, and fit a glass top for a serviceable, and safe, end result.

You'll know that you want one of these tables as soon as you see the examples in the book!

Editorial Review

Review
If you want to build your own engine coffee table then this is the book for you. Tips for different engines and sizes, it is the comprehensive guide to your living room ice-breaker. Practical Classics very well written with clear and easy to follow instructions and numerous photographs to both guide and inspire you ... would make the perfect present for any petrolhead (or to yourself! Go on, you deserve it) Air Monkeys Magazine If you really want to build your own engine coffee table, there's nothing else quite like this book on the market ... a great guide Auto Express a fun read, a fun idea, and if you fancy 'upcycling' some of your garage rubbish, this is a good place to start. American Car Magazine If you harbour a guilty lust for big bores under glass, this could be for you. Octane (UK) for a penny under a tenner it's a hoot. tkc (Totalkitcar) If you've ever dreamed of owning a coffee table like this and being able to tell your mates that you built it yourself, then surely Gergely's book is a must-buy. About the Author
Gergely Bajzath was born in Hungary in the very late 70s. A petrolhead since his youth, Gergely studied steel construction after leaving school, and - never one to work in an office - went on to work in the construction industry in Germany, before arriving in the UK in 2005.Highly experienced in metal fabrications, he started to make engine coffee tables in 2011, and has now made in excess of 50 different types, including other types of car furniture. After a few nice articles about his tables were published, the Saatchi Gallery bought and placed one of his V12 tables in its Saatchi Store in London.Gergely is always happy to help you bulid your own table!
